Claims and Returns

Customer Support Manual

What Should I Do If My Product Fails Within 30 Days of Purchase?

If the unit fails due to a manufacturing defect within 30 days of purchase, you must:

- Return the unit to the retailer or online marketplace where it was purchased
- Provide your original receipt as proof of purchase

The retailer will handle the return according to their policy.

Are Refunds Ever Offered in Special Situations?

In rare cases involving major product issues, a refund may be considered as an exception. These situations are reviewed individually to ensure customer satisfaction.

Approval is not guaranteed and depends on the specific circumstances of the case.

Do You Offer Refunds?

We do not offer refunds.

If a product issue is confirmed and covered under warranty, a replacement will be provided instead of a refund.

Can I Return a Product If I Simply Don’t Need It?

If you are returning a product because you no longer need it or changed your mind, this matter must be handled directly with the retailer.

Since the product was not purchased from us directly, we are unable to process change-of-mind returns for retail purchases.

I purchased my product online from Amazon, Walmart or other third-party online marketplaces within the last 30 days

If you are returning a product because you no longer need it or changed your mind, this matter must be handled directly with the online marketplace you purchased the product from. Since the product was not purchased from us directly, we are unable to process change-of-mind returns for online purchases.

I purchased my product online from Amazon, Walmart or other third-party online marketplaces more than 30 days ago.

We are unable to accept returns because you no longer need it or changed your mind.

I purchased my product from a physical retail store

If you are returning a product because you no longer need it or changed your mind, this matter must be handled directly with the retailer.

Since the product was not purchased from us directly, we are unable to process change-of-mind returns for retail purchases.

I purchased my product from www.Comfortzoneproducts.com

We are unable to accept returns because you no longer need it or changed your mind.

What Happens If My In-Store Purchase Is Broken or Defective?

If this product fails because of a manufacturing defect within 30 days of purchase, return the unit, with your receipt, to the retailer from where you purchased the product.

After 30 days or purchase, if the product is still within the warranty period, a repair or replacement may be done.

If the warranty has expired, we will unfortunately be unable to provide a replacement.

Proof of purchase is required for all warranty claims.

How Do I Return a Product?

If you purchased your product from a physical retail store, we strongly recommend that you return the item directly to the retailer where it was originally purchased.

As the retail stores manage their own return policies, and therefore the returns must be processed through them.

If the retailer is unable to accept the return, please reach out to us via the request form and provide the below information:

- Copy of receipt or proof of purchase
- Date of purchase
- Reason for return
- Photos of the product (if damaged or defective)

Each case will be reviewed individually.

If your product was purchased through Amazon, Walmart, or any other third-party online marketplace, your return must be processed directly through that platform.

We are unable to process returns or refunds for orders placed through external retailers or marketplaces.

Please log into your marketplace account and follow their return instructions.

I purchased my product online from Amazon, Walmart or other third-party online marketplaces within the last 30 days

If your product was purchased through Amazon, Walmart, or any other third-party online marketplace within the last 30 days, your return must be processed directly through that platform.

We are unable to process returns or refunds for orders placed through external retailers or marketplaces.

Please log into your marketplace account and follow their return instructions.

I purchased my product online from Amazon, Walmart or other third-party online marketplaces more than 30 days ago.

If your product was purchased through Amazon, Walmart, or any other third-party online marketplace more than 30 days ago, please reach out to us via the request form and provide the below information:

- Copy of receipt or proof of purchase
- Date of purchase
- Reason for return
- Photos of the product (if damaged or defective)

Each case will be reviewed individually.

I purchased my product from a physical retail store

If you purchased your product from a physical retail store, we strongly recommend that you return the item directly to the retailer where it was originally purchased.

As the retail stores manage their own return policies, and therefore the returns must be processed through them.

If the retailer is unable to accept the return, please reach out to us via the request form and provide the below information:

- Copy of receipt or proof of purchase
- Date of purchase
- Reason for return
- Photos of the product (if damaged or defective)

Each case will be reviewed individually.

I purchased my product from www.Comfortzoneproducts.com

Please reach out to us via the request form and provide the below information:

- Copy of receipt or proof of purchase
- Date of purchase
- Reason for return
- Photos of the product (if damaged or defective)

Each case will be reviewed individually.